Live stream your own GAMING MARATHON

The most popular platform to live stream your gaming is through Twitch. You can watch and chat with millions of gamers all around the world.

The basics for setting up a livestream gaming marathon are a Twitch account and a JustGiving page.

Once you've set up your Twitch account head over to our #twentyfourchallenge campaign and click the 'fundraise' button.

You can now link your JustGiving to your Twitch account and get gaming!

TIP: By using video broadcast software, such as OBS Studio, you can create browser source overlays in Twitch to get in-stream donations and keep people watching.

Hold your own GAMING TOURNAMENT

Get your family, friends, or office involved in a gaming competition with prizes for the top gamer. Stream the tournament to get people involved in your fundraising.

Start by figuring out which online game people in your network would be excited to play for a great cause. It should be a multiplayer game with scores, and there should be some kind of time limit, so your tournament doesn't go on indefinitely.

Once you've hammered out all the particulars like date, time, tournament format, and what game you'll use, you can start getting participants!

Head to our #twentyfourchallenge campaign and click on the 'fundraise' button.

Set the rules and invite teams to take part. You can make the entry fee a minimum donation or require each team to create their own Fundraiser with a minimum fundraising target needed to compete.

TIP: Don't forget to promote your tournament - You can use an email campaign and social media to get the word out.
